Post Graduate Department of Biotechnology
Sardar Patel University
Anand, Gujarat, India
The University
Sardar Patel University named after one of the most illustrious sons of India, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, was established in 1955. It is situated in Vallabhbhai Vidyanagar, an educational township, about 5 Km from Anand, popularly known as “City”. Having completed six glorious decades, the university is striving to achieve a position of eminence in the country. The university has twenty six post graduate departments and about 130 affiliated colleges and institutions. Several post graduate departments have received recognition for their contribution to teaching and research through UGC-SAP, UGC-CAS, DST-FIST, UGC-Innovative Programs and Center of Excellence. Recognizing the contribution of the university in research and development, the Department of Science and Technology granted the prestigious PURSE (Promotion of University Research in Science) programme.

The Department
The Department of BioSciences started as Department of Botany in 1958. In the year 1977, with the inclusion of M.Sc. in Microbiology and M.Sc. in Life Sciences, the department was rechristened as the Department of BioSciences. It is recognized as one of the premier institutes offering post graduate and research programmes in various disciplines of Biology. The department runs six post graduate programmes viz.: Botany, Zoology, Microbiology, Biochemistry, Biotechnology and Industrial Biotechnology (DBT sponsored). Setting very high standards in teaching and research, the department has received support for research in the form of UGC-DRS, UGC-SAP, UGC-COSIST, DST-FIST, DBT-CEIB and UGC-CAS.

The Symposium
The recent advances in biological sciences have changed both the pace and direction of research. Advances in technology and instrumentation have opened new vistas of research. Basic science is moving towards translational research. The aim of this symposium is to appreciate and celebrate an exciting time in biological science research. The technical programme will consist of both invited talks by eminent scholars from various fields of biology and poster presentations by research scholars. The symposium will provide an opportunity for the young researchers to interact with the eminent scholars and researchers from across the country. All the accepted posters will be grouped into following areas:
- Plant Sciences
- Human Health, Medicine and Animal Sciences
- Environmental Sciences
- Molecular Biology and Biochemistry
- Fermentation technology & Microbiology
- Biodiversity

All the research scholars/faculty members are invited to submit an abstract of their research work for poster presentation.

The Venue
The symposium will be held in M. P. Patel Auditorium, a front of main building of Sardar Patel University, Vallabhbhai Vidyanagar. Vallabhbhai Vidyanagar, a well-known educational town of national recognition is situated about 5 Km from Anand, which lies between Ahmedabad and Vadodara. Anand is well connected to India by train. The nearest airports are Vadodara and Ahmedabad. Vallabhbhai Vidyanagar has a rural ambiance with all the amenities of the modern city. It is known for its greenery and situation nearby Karamsad village, the birth place of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the Iron Man of India.
