God was to serve his people, and therefore when he worked for the happiness of the Indians, he was also making God happy. Many times, people put a straight question to him, asking him to prove that there is God and how can we know Him? Gandhi would admit frankly that he could not show God to anybody because His presence could be felt in the heart only. He was, however, a worshipper of God and could not live without him. He once said, "If you do not give me food and water, I can still live, but if you take away my belief in God, I shall die immediately".

Questions:

- (1) What was Gandhi's strength?
- (2) How did he want to serve the God?
- (3) What were Gandhi's views about the God?
- (4) In what way was he a worshipper of God?
- (5) What suitable title would you offer to this passage?
