Once a farmer lived in a village with his four sons. The sons always quarreled among themselves. So, the family was unhappy

And the work of the farm was not done well. One day the farmer called his sons together. He put some sticks on the ground in front of them. He picked up one of the sticks and broke it with his hands. Then he picked up five sticks and tied them together. He gave the bundle of sticks to his strongest son and said, "Break them". The young man could not break the bundle of five sticks. Then the farmer said, "It is easy to break one stick but it is not easy to break five sticks if they are together" The farmer then advised his sons : " Our family is like those sticks. By quarrelling you will become weak; by staying together you will be strong."
